BAND STORY

About Piper St Sound. Piper Street Sound is the production moniker of Matt Gregg Mansfield. Matt is a musician from Atlanta, Georgia, that has been involved in many projects and bands, his focus is dub inspired bass lines and live effects manipulation. He plays with DubConscious, Flight Risk and Dialect Trio.

Piper Street Sound is a concept and collective of musical energies which is also an imprint and studio.

This imprint and idea is based at 899 Piper St. Studios and utilizes the powers of the Piper St All-Stars.

This amorphous musical force creates diverse dub imbued music with influences ranging from Jungle to Cuban Son to Experimental music and Hip Hop, all the various strands connected by the production style of Matt Gregg: distinctly paranoiac and surreal, a style heavily in debted to the dub engineering of the 1970's and to sampler based music of the 1980's and 90's, but with an incorporation of completly various musical traditions from all over the world. Piper St Sound is a constantly evolving project and seeks to dialogue with all forms of sound. The backing group of musicians used at any point for a Piper St. production, is a constantly changing and evolving set of amazing musicians drawn from the Athens and Atlanta music scenes. Usually Matty holds down the bass.

LATEST NEWS

Long Absence from the Ark

It has been too long since I have been active here on the Dub ark. I have been working on many new productions, both for my own Piper Street Sound tracks and several reggae albums for bands from DC to Atlanta. I look forward to sharing some of my new riddims and dubs soon.

I have a 5 track Ep with Dub City Renegades going to be mastered this weekend. This crew of musicians from DC make some good Reggae music and the dub versions are going to be big. Stay tuned to my site to catch the newness.

Jealous Dub- Jealous Type Remix

I also have been working on an album for DubConscious. I play bass and dub engineer with this project from Athens, Georgia and I can say this is my biggest production job to date. I have begun the process of finding artist to remix and dub the 7 track project, if you are interested please send me a message about it and I'll get you some stems.

I have a new Piper Street Sound album about finished that I look forward to sharing as soon as I can get it mastered. I am proud to announce that my favorite producer Chancha Via Circuito will be remixing a track off of it. I am so excited to hear what he comes up with. It will be an experiment combining Afro-Latin percussion, Cumbia and electronic music.

I have been working on building a wordpress blog to review music and to share my opinions, it is still very much in a raw, unfinished state but I will be sharing the link to it soon.

Peace and Dub!
